Defence news

India's Defence Sector:

Controllers' Conference 2025: Defence Minister Rajnath Singh inaugurated the Controllers' Conference 2025 in New Delhi, emphasizing the Defence Accounts Department's (DAD) crucial role in the financial agility and operational readiness of the armed forces.

Operation Sindoor: The Minister cited the success of "Operation Sindoor," highlighting that the valor displayed and the performance of indigenous equipment have increased the global demand for Indian defence products. This was also mentioned in other reports as a key event boosting India's defence reputation.

Aatmanirbhar Bharat: The conference underlined India's push towards "Aatmanirbharta" (self-reliance) in defence. Singh noted that most of the equipment once imported is now being manufactured domestically.

Defence Economics and Innovation: Rajnath Singh called for a shift in perspective, viewing defence spending as an economic investment rather than a mere expenditure. He also referred to the newly launched ₹1 lakh crore Research, Development, and Innovation (RDI) Scheme to support innovation in the sector.

Digital Initiatives: The DAD's new mission statement and motto, "Alert, Agile, Adaptive," was formally released. The Minister also praised digital platforms like SPARSH, which manages pension services for over 32 lakh defence pensioners, and highlighted upcoming initiatives like the Comprehensive Pay System.
