India Records Sharp Rise in Tiger Deaths in 2025

In 2025, India faced a complex conservation challenge as its successful efforts to increase tiger numbers met the harsh reality of limited habitat. The National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) recorded 166 tiger deaths, marking a sharp 31.7% increase from the 126 deaths reported in 2024.

2025 Mortality Breakdown by State

Madhya Pradesh, often called the "Tiger State," continues to bear the highest burden of mortalities due to its dense population.

| State | 2025 Tiger Deaths |
|----------------|-------------------|
| Madhya Pradesh | 55 |
| Maharashtra | 38 |
| Karnataka | 15 |
| Kerala | 13 |

| State | 2025 Tiger Deaths |
|-------|-------------------|
| Assam | 12 |

Key Findings and Causes

The 2025 data reveals that the spike in deaths is largely a "crisis of success"—more tigers competing for the same amount of space.

- Territorial Infighting: Experts cite habitat saturation as a primary driver. As tiger populations grow in core areas, competition for territory intensifies, leading to fatal clashes between adult males.
- Vulnerability of Young Tigers: Out of the 166 deaths, 31 were cubs. Young tigers and sub-adults are particularly at risk when they disperse from their mother's territory to establish their own, often encountering established, aggressive males or wandering into human-dominated landscapes.
- Deaths Outside Reserves: Shockingly, nearly 60% of the deaths occurred outside the boundaries of protected tiger reserves. These areas often lack the same level of monitoring and safety as core zones.
- Human-Induced Factors: While "natural causes" dominated, human-wildlife conflict remains a threat. Electrocution from illegal fences (31 deaths) and road or rail accidents (19 deaths) were significant man-made causes.

The Conservation Dilemma

India currently hosts nearly 75% of the world's tigers (approximately 3,682 as of the last major census). However, the 2025 figures underscore that population growth alone is not enough.

Without ecological corridors—safe passages of forest that allow tigers to move between reserves—young tigers become "trapped" in overpopulated areas or stray into villages, leading to both tiger and human fatalities.

E-Bill System Rolled Out to Improve Fertiliser Subsidy Management

On January 1, 2026, the Government of India launched the Integrated E-Bill System, a landmark digital reform designed to manage approximately ₹2 lakh crore in annual fertilizer subsidies. Inaugurated by Union Minister J.P. Nadda, the platform marks a complete shift from manual, paper-based workflows to a fully transparent, system-to-system digital mechanism.

The Shift: From Manual to Digital

The new system replaces a legacy process that relied on physical files and manual scrutiny, which often led to administrative bottlenecks and delayed payments to fertilizer companies.

| Feature | Manual System (Pre-2026) | E-Bill System (Current) |
|-------------|-----------------------------------|--|
| Workflow | Physical movement of paper files | 100% end-to-end digital workflow |
| Processing | Multiple approval layers (manual) | Standardized "First-In-First-Out" (FIFO) |
| Tracking | Limited visibility for companies | Real-time status tracking via portal |
| Audit Trail | Manual records, prone to errors | Tamper-proof digital audit trail | significantly reducing the risk of fraud or duplication.

Impact on the Agricultural Ecosystem

- Faster Liquidity: By accelerating weekly subsidy releases, the system improves the working capital of companies like IFFCO and KRIBHCO, ensuring they can maintain a steady supply of fertilizers to farmers.
- Transparency: The centralized dashboard provides senior officials with real-time oversight of public expenditure, ensuring every rupee of the subsidy budget is accounted for.
- Ease of Doing Business: It eliminates the need for company representatives to visit government offices for manual follow-ups on pending bills.

How the Integrated System Works

The E-Bill platform is the result of a technical integration between two major government infrastructures:

1. iFMS (Integrated Fertilizer Management System): Tracks the production, movement, and sale of fertilizers.
2. PFMS (Public Financial Management System): Managed by the Controller General of Accounts (CGA) for the final disbursement of funds.

Under this new workflow, fertilizer companies submit claims online. The system automatically validates these claims against predefined financial criteria and logs every action digitally. This ensures that payments are released only after strict system-based verification, legislative framework to restrict digital access for minors. President Emmanuel Macron, in his 2026 New Year's address, signaled that protecting children from "digital violence" is a national priority, drawing direct inspiration from Australia's world-first legislation.

France Plans Social Media Restrictions for Children Under 15

The French Proposal: Key Measures

A draft law, expected to be debated in the National Assembly starting in late January 2026, outlines a two-pronged strategy to combat excessive screen time:

- Social Media Ban for Under-15s: The government plans to prohibit platforms (including TikTok, Instagram, and Snapchat) from providing services to anyone under 15. This is a shift from the 2023 "digital legal age" law, which allowed parental consent; the new proposal seeks a more absolute restriction.
- High School Phone Ban: Building on the 2018 ban in primary and middle schools, the new law would extend the prohibition of mobile phone use to high schools (lycées) to ensure a distraction-free environment for students aged 15–18.
- Digital Curfews: Some lawmakers are advocating for an additional "digital curfew" for older teens (15–18), which would potentially block social media access between 10 PM and 8 AM to prioritize sleep and mental health.

Global Comparison: The Age Threshold

France's move is part of a "domino effect" following Australia's landmark December 2025 ban.

| Country | Age Limit | Status |
|-----------|-----------|------------------------------|
| Australia | Under 16 | In Effect (Dec 2025) |
| France | Under 15 | Proposed (Target: Sept 2026) |
| Norway | Under 15 | Under discussion |
| Malaysia | Under 16 | Announced for 2026 |

The "F1" Analogy

President Macron has famously compared unrestricted social media access to "letting a child drive a Formula 1 car before learning the rules of the road." This sentiment reflects the government's stance that the current "self-regulation" by tech companies has failed to protect children from:

- Algorithmic Addiction: Specifically targeting TikTok's "closed feedback loops."
- Cyber-harassment: Reducing the avenues for 24/7 bullying.
- Sleep Disruption: Addressing the 35% rise in adolescent depressive symptoms linked to late-night usage.

Enforcement Challenges

The primary hurdle remains Age Verification. France is exploring "Age Assurance" technologies—such as facial estimation or third-party digital ID verification—to ensure compliance without compromising adult privacy. Platforms that fail to implement "reasonable steps" could face fines similar to Australia's, which reach up to $50 million (AUD).

Sjoerd Marijne Returns as Coach of Indian Women's Hockey Team

In a major development for Indian hockey, Sjoerd Marijne has been reappointed as the head coach of the Indian women's national team as of January 2, 2026. The Dutchman's return marks a significant strategic pivot by Hockey India to revitalize a squad that has struggled with consistency and transition over the past year.

The Return of the "Tokyo Mastermind"

Marijne is a familiar face to the Indian hockey community, having previously served as the chief coach from 2017 to 2021. His tenure is best remembered for guiding the Indian women to a historic fourth-place finish at the Tokyo 2020 Olympics, their best performance in over 36 years.

| Aspect | Details |
|------------------------|---|
| New Coach | Sjoerd Marijne (Netherlands) |
| Predecessor | Harendra Singh (Resigned Dec 2025) |
| Analytical Coach | Matias Vila (Argentina) |
| Scientific Advisor | Dr. Wayne Lombard (South Africa) |
| First Major Assignment | FIH World Cup Qualifiers (March 8–14, 2026) |

Context of the Appointment

Marijne replaces Harendra Singh, who stepped down in December 2025 citing personal reasons and amid reports of friction with senior players. His reappointment is seen as a "rescue mission" to bring back the tactical discipline and high-performance fitness levels that defined the team's Tokyo run.

- Restoration of the Support Staff: In a move to ensure continuity, Marijne will be joined by Dr. Wayne Lombard, the scientific advisor credited with the team's elite fitness levels during the 2021 Olympic cycle.
- A "Crisis of Confidence": After failing to qualify for the Paris 2024 Olympics under Janneke Schopman and suffering a relegation in the 2024–25 Pro League under Harendra Singh, the team has slipped in global rankings. Marijne's immediate task is to stabilize the locker room.

Upcoming Challenges

The clock is ticking for the new coaching staff. Marijne is scheduled to arrive in India on January 14, 2026, with a national coaching camp starting on January 19 at SAI Bengaluru.

His first major test will be the FIH Hockey Women's World Cup Qualifiers in Hyderabad this March. Securing a spot in the World Cup is considered non-negotiable for Hockey India as they look toward the 2028 Los Angeles Olympic cycle.

New Sports Law Begins to Reshape India's Sports Governance

On January 1, 2026, the National Sports Governance Act, 2025, partially came into effect, marking the most significant overhaul of sports administration in India's history. This legislative framework replaces the non-binding 2011 Sports Code with a statutory mandate, giving the government legal teeth to enforce transparency and professionalism across all National Sports Federations (NSFs).

The New Power Structure

The Act establishes three core pillars to dismantle "fiefdoms" and political monopolies that have historically plagued Indian sports bodies:

- National Sports Board (NSB): The new "super-regulator" (similar to SEBI but for sports). It has the power to grant or cancel the recognition of federations, monitor their bank accounts, and conduct audits. Only NSB-affiliated bodies can receive government funding.
- National Sports Tribunal (NST): A specialized judicial body headed by a retired Supreme Court or High Court judge. It aims to resolve sports disputes (like selection row or doping appeals) within a 90-day window, preventing long-drawn-out court cases that stall athletes' careers.
- National Sports Election Panel (NSEP): Comprising retired election officials, this panel will oversee federation elections to ensure they are free, fair, and democratic.

Mandatory Reforms for Federations

To comply with the new law, every sports federation in India must restructure its governance by the end of 2026:

| Reform Area | New Requirement |
|------------------------|---|
| Executive Committee | Capped at a maximum of 15 members . |
| Athlete Representation | Must include at least two "Sportspersons of Merit" |

| Gender Diversity | Mandates a minimum number of women (usually four) in the executive body. |
| Age & Tenure Caps | Strict upper age limit of 70 years for office bearers (extendable to 75 only if international rules allow). |
| Transparency | Federations are now officially "Public Authorities" under the RTI Act, 2005. |

BANKING/ECONOMY

Karthikeyan Manickam Appointed Chairman of ESAF Small Finance Bank

On January 3, 2026, ESAF Small Finance Bank officially appointed Karthikeyan Manickam as its part-time Chairman. A veteran of the Indian banking sector with over 36 years of experience, Manickam succeeds Ravimohan Periyakavil Ramakrishnan, who retired from the position.

The appointment comes at a pivotal time for the bank, as it simultaneously announced a major clean-up of its balance sheet by selling nearly ₹1,694 crore in non-performing assets (NPAs) to improve asset quality.

Professional Background & Expertise

Manickam is a former Executive Director of the Bank of India, where he played a key role in shaping large-scale banking strategies. His career highlights include:

- Diverse Sector Leadership: He has previously served as the Chairman of Star Union Dai-ichi Life Insurance Company and

Why This Matters Now

This reform is a critical part of India's diplomatic and sporting strategy as it prepares to bid for the 2036 Summer Olympics. By aligning its national laws with the Olympic Charter and international standards (IOC/FIFA), India is signaling to the world that its sports ecosystem is ready for global scrutiny and elite-level hosting.

Note: To ensure a smooth transition, the Sports Ministry has allowed federations with elections due early this year to postpone them until December 2026, when the Act will become fully operational.

held board positions at Tamil Nadu Grama Bank and BOI STAR Investment Managers.

- Operational Depth: His expertise spans critical pillars of banking, including risk management, credit monitoring, recovery, regulatory compliance, and human resource management.
- Strategic Role: At ESAF, his primary focus will be providing independent oversight and steering the bank's growth in the competitive retail and microfinance segments.

Reconstitution of Board Committees

Immediately following his appointment, the bank's board approved the reconstitution of five key sub-committees to leverage Manickam's experience. He has been strategically placed in three of the most vital committees:

| Committee | Manickam's Role | Primary Objective |
|---------------------------|-----------------|--|
| Risk Management | Member | Strengthening the bank's internal safety nets and risk appetite. |
| NRCC | Member | Overseeing nomination, remuneration, and compensation policies. |
| Stakeholders Relationship | Member | Enhancing transparency and communication with investors. |

Why This Appointment Matters

For a Small Finance Bank (SFB), strong corporate governance is essential to maintain the trust of both the regulator (RBI) and the public. By bringing in a former PSU (Public Sector Undertaking) chief, ESAF aims to:

- Reinforce Regulatory Compliance: Ensuring the bank adheres to the strict evolving norms for SFBs.
- Bolster Investor Confidence: Demonstrating a commitment to stable, professional leadership during periods of capital raising and expansion.
- Enhance Recovery Focus: Utilizing his deep background in credit monitoring to manage the bank's asset quality more effectively.

STATE NEWS

Vehicle Registrations in 2025

Vehicle registrations in Tamil Nadu increased by 8.4% in 2025. In 2025, Tamil Nadu's vehicle registrations reflected a clear urban-rural divide and a significant shift toward green energy. According to the latest Vahan dashboard data, here is the specific breakdown of how the 21.18 lakh registrations were distributed across fuel types and key hubs like Chennai.

Fuel-Wise Breakdown (2025)

While petrol vehicles still dominate due to the massive volume of two-wheelers, electric vehicles (EVs) saw the fastest growth rate in the state.

| Fuel Type | Registrations (Approx.) | Growth vs 2024 |
|--------------------|-------------------------|----------------|
| Petrol | 17.46 Lakh (75%) | +12.3% |
| Electric (EV) | 1.74 Lakh (8.2%) | +28.8% |
| Diesel | 1.62 Lakh (7.6%) | Marginal Rise |
| Other (CNG/Hybrid) | 0.36 Lakh (1.7%) | Steady |

Focus on Chennai: Petrol vs. Electric Cars

Chennai and its satellite RTOs (Chengalpattu and Tiruvallur) accounted for the lion's share of high-value registrations. In the 4-wheeler (car) segment specifically:

- Electric Car Performance: Chennai leads the state in EV car adoption. Between January and April 2025 alone, Chennai registered 1,614 electric cars, making up over 41% of the state's total e-4W sales during that period.
- Petrol/Hybrid Preference: Despite the EV surge, petrol and strong-hybrid cars remain the primary choice for long-distance commuters in Chennai. For instance, in December 2025 alone, over 3,000 petrol light motor vehicles were registered in the Chennai South region.

- The "Eco" Hubs: Within Chennai, the RTOs of Tambaram, Poonamallee, and Sholinganallur recorded the highest volumes, driven by the IT corridor and growing suburban infrastructure.

Why EVs are Surging in Tamil Nadu

- Extended Tax Holidays: The Tamil Nadu government has extended the 100% road tax exemption for all electric vehicles until 2027, a move that reduces the on-road cost by 6-10%.
- Charging Infrastructure: Chennai, Coimbatore, and Madurai have been designated as "EV Cities," with over 150 new public charging stations added in 2025 alone.
- Manufacturing Influence: With giants like Ather, Ola Electric, and TVS manufacturing in the state, "local pride" and better service availability have pushed 2-wheeler EV penetration to nearly 7.8% of all sales.

25 compared to the previous year. A total of about 21.18 lakh vehicles were registered across 147 Regional Transport Offices (RTOs) and Unit Offices (UOs) in the State. More than 40% of registrations were concentrated in Chennai, Chengalpattu, Tiruvallur, Coimbatore, Madurai and Salem districts. Two-wheelers formed the largest share, with around 16.4 lakh registrations in 2025.

FACTS ABOUT BHARAT

That is a fantastic summary of how Karnataka got its name! It's fascinating how the state's identity is so deeply tied to its physical geography—from the high Deccan plateau to the famous black soil (regur) that fuels its agriculture.

To add to your "Facts about Bharat" series, here are a few more incredible highlights about the Land of Black Soil and Sandalwood:

Historical & Architectural Marvels

- The Cradle of Stone Architecture: Karnataka is home to Hampi, the capital of the Vijayanagara Empire and a UNESCO World Heritage site. It's often described as the world's largest open-air museum.
- The Whispering Gallery: The Gol Gumbaz in Vijayapura has the second-largest dome in the world (after St. Peter's Basilica). A single clap inside can be heard echoing up to seven times!

Natural Wealth

- Sandalwood State: Karnataka produces about 70% of India's sandalwood. The fragrance of Mysore Sandal Soap is world-famous.
- Coffee Capital: If you love your morning brew, thank Karnataka! It accounts for over 70% of India's coffee production, with Chikmagalur being the place where coffee was first grown in India.

Modern Achievements

- Silicon Valley of India: Bengaluru is the nation's leading IT exporter and a global hub for technology and startups.
- The Khadi Flag: The Karnataka Khadi Gramodyoga Samyukta Sangha in Hubli is the only unit in India authorized to manufacture and supply the official National Flag of India.
