India's Fish Production Doubles in a Decade, Employment Sees Massive Boost

In early 2026, India's fisheries and aquaculture sector continues its trajectory as a global powerhouse, having recently hit a major milestone by doubling its production over the last decade. As of the current 2024-25 fiscal cycle, India has solidified its position as the world's second-largest aquaculture producer and the third-largest fish producer, contributing approximately 8% of global output.

The sector is no longer just a traditional occupation but a high-tech "Blue Economy" driver, sustaining over 30 million livelihoods and attracting significant foreign investment.

Strategic Drivers: PMMSY and Technology: The Pradhan Mantri Matsya Sampada Yojana (PMMSY), with an investment of over ₹20,000 crore, has been the primary engine for this growth.

- Infrastructure Boom: Since its inception, the scheme has funded 730 cold storages, over 26,000 fish transport units, and 11 Integrated Aquaparks across India.

- Empowering Women: Under PMMSY, women receive 60% financial assistance for projects, leading to a surge in women-led fish processing and retail startups.
- Technological Shift: The adoption of Biofloc technology, Recirculatory Aquaculture Systems (RAS), and cage culture in reservoirs has allowed for higher yields in smaller areas with less water usage.

Key Performance Indicators (2024-25)

The sector has shown remarkable resilience even amidst global trade shifts and tariff challenges.

Metric	2013-14 (Base)	2024-25 (Current)	Growth %
Total Fish Production	96 Lakh Tonnes	197.75 Lakh Tonnes	~106%
Seafood Export Value	₹30,213 Crore	₹62,408 Crore	~107%
Aquaculture Productivity	3 Tonnes/Hectare	4.7 Tonnes/Hectare	~57%
Per Capita Consumption	5 kg	12-13 kg	~140%

Export Resilience & The "Shrimp Pivot"

While the United States remains a top destination, India has successfully diversified its market due to recent tariff pressures.

- Frozen Shrimp: Remains the "crown jewel," accounting for roughly 66% of export value.

- Market Diversification: In late 2025, exports to Vietnam grew by over 100%, and shipments to China and the European Union (specifically Belgium and Germany) saw double-digit growth.
- Value Addition: India is moving away from bulk frozen exports to high-margin ready-to-cook and breaded products, which are less susceptible to raw commodity price swings.

Current Trend: To boost the premium value of Indian seafood, the government is currently pursuing global eco-labelling for Lakshadweep Tuna, highlighting traditional, sustainable pole-and-line fishing methods.

Deep Tech Startup Policy 2025-26

The launch of the Tamil Nadu Deep Tech Startup Policy (TNDTSP) 2025-2026 at UmapineTN 2026 marks a significant milestone in India's technology landscape. By becoming the first state to introduce a dedicated framework for "Deep Tech," Tamil Nadu is moving beyond the standard software-as-a-service (SaaS) model to focus on high-risk, high-impact science and IP-led innovation.

The policy is designed to bridge the "lab-to-market" gap, ensuring that breakthrough research from academic institutions actually reaches the commercial world.

Core Objectives & Targets

The policy sets clear, measurable goals to be achieved over the next five years:

- Support 100 Startups: Providing a structured lifecycle path for at least 100 deep tech ventures.
- ₹100 Crore Investment: Mobilizing this amount through a mix of public grants and private venture capital.
- Intellectual Property: Targeting a 25% annual growth in patent filings by deep tech startups in the state.
- Tech Transfer: Facilitating at least 10 licensing deals from research labs to startups for commercial use.
- Talent Pipeline: Training over 10,000 students and professionals in AI, robotics, biotech, and semiconductors.

Key Pillars of the Policy

1. Staged Funding (TRL-Based): Grants are calibrated to Technology Readiness Levels (TRL). Early-stage R&D (TRL 1–4) receives research grants, while higher levels get commercialization and scale-up support.
2. "Government as Early Adopter": A unique program with an annual budget of ₹25 crore across five state departments to pilot startup solutions in public health, clean energy, and social protection.
3. iTNT Hub as Nodal Agency: The Tamil Nadu Technology (iTNT) Hub will coordinate all initiatives, manage funds, and offer a single-window platform for startups to access infrastructure and R&D labs.
4. Deep Tech Research Parks: The state plans to establish cluster-specific parks and provide "vouchers" for startups to use expensive shared testing facilities.

Strategic Impact

Sector	Goal
Emerging Tech	Focus on AI, Semiconductors, SpaceTech, and Biotech.
Market Access	Help 50 startups expand into global markets (e.g., Singapore, UAE).
Skilling	Award 10 research fellowships to PhD students transitioning to entrepreneurship.

Interesting Highlight: Along with the policy, the state signed a pact with Germany's XeedQ GmbH to launch a quantum computing program, potentially making Tamil Nadu the first state to house a physical quantum computer for its startup ecosystem.
