C) The return to manual punch-card programming.
D) The complete removal of human oversight in AI.

Reading Comprehension Passage

The Passage: The Great Sodium Shift (April 2026)

By April 2026, the landscape of global energy storage underwent a seismic shift. For a decade, Lithium-ion batteries reigned supreme, but the "Lithium Bottleneck" of 2025—characterized by skyrocketing costs and supply chain fragilities—forced a pivot. Enter Sodium-ion technology.

Unlike lithium, which is geographically concentrated in a few nations, sodium is abundant and universally accessible. In the first quarter of 2026, India and China collectively inaugurated fifteen "Giga-factories" dedicated solely to sodium-based cells. While these batteries offer slightly lower energy density than their lithium counterparts, their thermal stability and performance in sub-zero temperatures have made them the preferred choice for stationary grid storage and budget electric vehicles (EVs).

Furthermore, the environmental footprint of sodium extraction is significantly smaller. Traditional lithium mining requires vast amounts of water, often in arid regions, whereas sodium can be harvested from common salt. As of April 22 (Earth Day), the International Energy Agency (IEA) reported that the integration of sodium-ion batteries helped reduce the carbon intensity of the global transport sector by an additional 12% compared to previous projections.

Questions & Explanations

Question 1: Inference

According to the passage, what was the primary catalyst for the shift toward Sodium-ion technology?

- A) The discovery of sodium in 2026.
- B) The "Lithium Bottleneck" and supply chain issues of 2025.
- C) Sodium-ion batteries having higher energy density than lithium.
- D) A global ban on lithium mining.

Question 2: Vocabulary

In the context of the passage, the word "seismic" most nearly means:

- A) Related to earthquakes.
- B) Subtle and gradual.
- C) Massive and significant.
- D) Dangerous and unstable.

Question 3: Detail

Which two countries are mentioned as leaders in the production of sodium-based cells?

- A) USA and Germany.
- B) Chile and Australia.
- C) India and China.
- D) Russia and Brazil.

Question 4: Comparison

What is one technical advantage of Sodium-ion batteries over Lithium-ion batteries mentioned in the text?

- A) They are much lighter in weight.
- B) They have higher energy density.
- C) They perform better in sub-zero temperatures.
- D) They require more water to produce.

Question 5: Environmental Impact

Why is sodium extraction considered more environmentally friendly than lithium mining?

- A) It uses common salt and less water.
- B) It involves no industrial machinery.
- C) Sodium is found in the air rather than the ground.
- D) It eliminates the need for any electricity during production.

Question 6: Purpose

What is the primary purpose of the third paragraph?

- A) To criticize the International Energy Agency.
- B) To explain the chemical composition of common salt.
- C) To highlight the ecological benefits of the transition.
- D) To announce the date of Earth Day.

Question 7: Specific Application

According to the text, for which application is Sodium-ion technology currently "preferred"?

- A) High-performance aerospace engines.
- B) Stationery grid storage and budget EVs.
- C) Smartphone and laptop batteries.
- D) Deep-sea exploration vessels.

Question 8: True/False

True or False: By April 2026, global transport carbon intensity was 12% lower than it would have been without sodium-ion integration.

- A) True
- B) False

Question 9: Logical Flow

The author mentions the "Lithium Bottleneck" primarily to:

- A) Argue that lithium is obsolete.
- B) Provide a historical reason for the current technological shift.
- C) Praise the mining industry.
- D) Explain why electric vehicles are too expensive.

Question 10: Conclusion

What can be concluded about the future of energy storage based on this passage?

- A) Lithium will be completely eradicated by 2027.
- B) Resource availability is a major driver of technological adoption.

- C) China and India are the only countries with salt deposits.
- D) Sodium batteries are only useful in cold climates.

Question 1: Space Exploration (Artemis II)

NASA's Artemis II mission made history this month by completing a crewed flyby of the Moon. Journalists described the astronauts' journey as an odyssey.

What does odyssey mean in this context?

- A) A short, planned scientific experiment.
- B) A long, adventurous journey marked by many changes of fortune.
- C) A stationary observation from a distance.
- D) A catastrophic failure of technology.

Question 2: Diplomacy (The UN Veto)

Russia and China used their veto power this month to block a resolution on the Strait of Hormuz, causing a diplomatic impasse.

Which word is a synonym for impasse?

- A) Breakthrough
- B) Deadlock
- C) Agreement
- D) Celebration

Question 3: Technology (Agentic AI)

Technologists in April 2026 have noted the rise of agentic AI models, which can execute multi-step tasks without human intervention.

What is the best definition of agentic?

- A) Possessing the capacity to act independently and make choices.
- B) Dependent on constant human prompts.
- C) Related specifically to secret government agents.
- D) Prone to making frequent errors.

Question 4: Indian Governance (Census 2027)

The commencement of the first digital census in April 2026 was praised for its efforts to streamline data capture.

What does streamline mean?

- A) To make a process more complex and detailed.
- B) To make an organization or system more efficient and effective.
- C) To stop a process before it finishes.
- D) To leak information to the public.

Question 5: Geopolitics (US-Iran Relations)

President Trump dispatched envoys to Pakistan to facilitate new ceasefire talks with Iran's foreign minister.

Which word most closely matches facilitate?

- A) Hinder
- B) Simplify
- C) Ease/Make easier
- D) Cancel

Question 6: Economics (Trade Shifts)

Following the "Lithium Bottleneck" of 2025, the energy industry saw a pivotal shift toward Sodium-ion batteries this April.

What does pivotal mean?

- A) Of crucial importance in relation to the development or success of something else.
- B) Unimportant or minor.
- C) Rotating in a circle.
- D) Returning to a previous state.

Question 7: Environment (Solar Records)

Scientists achieved a groundbreaking 34.85% efficiency in solar cells this month using tandem perovskite technology.

A groundbreaking discovery is one that:

- A) Destroys the Earth's crust.
- B) Is very expensive and rarely used.

C) Is innovative and introduces new ideas or methods.

D) Is based on ancient, proven theories.

Question 8: Public Health (World Immunization Week)

The theme for World Immunization Week 2026 emphasized the efficacy of vaccines for every generation.

What is efficacy?

- A) The cost of a medicine.
- B) The ability to produce a desired or intended result.
- C) The speed of distribution.
- D) The side effects of a drug.

Question 9: Legal/Political (The AI Act)

The European Commission entered the "Enforcement Era" for AI Act 2.0, seeking to mitigate the risks of unchecked automation.

What is the synonym for mitigate?

- A) Increase
- B) Alleviate/Reduce
- C) Ignore
- D) Appreciate

Question 10: General News (Tim Cook)

Speculation about Tim Cook's departure as Apple CEO suggests a transition period is approaching for the tech giant.

What does transition mean?
